Vice Admiral L. T. DuBose
Chief of Naval Personnel
Navy Department
Washington 25, D. C.

Dear Admiral DuBose:

The Office of Training is in process of setting up a Career Development Program for the Central Intelligence Agency. In connection with this Program, we wish to use the most effective selection and classification techniques available both in government and in industry.

Since the Bureau of Naval Personnel is constantly engaged in research activities along these lines, it is requested that one of our representatives be authorized liaison with the Bureau of Naval Personnel, specifically with the Classification and Field Research Branch, in order to learn what research findings, tests, and selection and classification techniques the Navy Department has developed which the Central Intelligence Agency can use.

If this liaison is authorized, [REDACTED] a staff member of the Office of Training, will be the CIA representative designated for liaison.

Sincerely yours,

MATTHEW BAIRD
Colonel, USAF
Director of Training
